Answer to the Certification Question

The correct answer is B

Explanation:

The purpose of the flag is make sure no one is down range before the light and buzzer is turned off. The bridge is at approximately the 100 yard target line. If you are going to past the bridge to set up your target we want you to place the orange flag in the holder next to the switch for the light and buzzer. This will let people know to look past the 100 yard line before they turn the light and buzzer off. This flag is intended as an aid because it is difficult to see people at the 200 yard line through the small openings in the wall in front of the firing line. I think everyone would agree they do not want to be down range when someone turns the light and buzzer off.
